eScholar Releases the Latest Version of its Education Data Warehouse Product Helps Education Agencies Better Meet Longitudinal Data System Goals

White Plains, N.Y., July 15, 2010 — eScholar LLC, the leader in education data management solutions, has announced the release of version 12 of the eScholar Complete Data Warehouse® for PK-12 (CDW-PK12). Successfully implemented by eight state education agencies (SEAs) including New York, Nebraska, Georgia, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Iowa, Kentucky and North Carolina, CDW-PK12 is the nation's most widely used PK-12 data warehouse product. CDW-PK-12 enables SEAs and local education agencies to integrate and use vast amounts of education data to drive improvements in the effectiveness of education. This allows them to better meet the educational needs of individual students and create more productive and valuable citizens.

“The new and expanded functionality in version 12 of CDW-PK12 is the result of our ongoing collaboration with our customers as well as our efforts to better meet the evolving requirements and objectives of local, state and federal education leaders and policymakers.” said eScholar product manager Russ Redgate. “This release expands a number of areas of the data model and incorporates enhancements in support of new national objectives including Race to the Top and P-20 longitudinal data systems”.

Highlights of this new release, which is available immediately, include:

- Enhancements to support Course and Grades data and improve ability to link students to course grades and teachers
- New domain for collecting any flavor of credits and GPA, both cumulative and by academic term
- Enhanced linkage between PK-12 and postsecondary products
- Support for multiple fund sources for a staff assignment
- Pilot support for state and local academic standards
- Load time performance improvements
- Online help capabilities
- New Student Contacts domain provides ability to store unlimited contact information for students

Organizations can learn more about version 12 of eScholar CDW-PK12 by visiting www.escholar.com or visiting our booth at the upcoming NCES Summer Data Conference July 28 through July 30, 2010 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Bethesda, Maryland.
