

eScholar myTrack™ is the first commercially available platform dedicated to the personalization of education. Regardless of the application or grade level, eScholar myTrack supports the improvement of education outcomes by delivering valuable insights from which to proactively address and achieve individual goals.

eScholar myTrack is a scalable and easy-to-use solution that capitalizes on the collected data held within the eScholar Complete Data Warehouse® solution. eScholar myTrack is applicable for administrators, teachers, counselors, parents, and students. Delivered within a collaborative framework, eScholar myTrack provides users with recommended pathways that are consistent with state and local policies, while supporting the ability to personalize interventions for the individual students.

Application of eScholar myTrack

eScholar myTrack supports the industry's movement towards aligning data closer to the student, quantifying results and creating actionable information from the vast amount of collected data. This is evidenced by the rise of intervention plans, including RTI, PEP, DEP and PBIS, the involvement of statewide implementations at district levels, as well as various external organizations that are funding this change. eScholar myTrack monitors and affects both academic and behavioral goals.

Academic Goals: eScholar myTrack allows students and their education support staff to identify and monitor progress towards specific education goals aligned to State Curriculum Standards. Whether it is obtain admission into college or improve a math score, eScholar myTrack provides the recommended pathways based on data of other students.

Behavioral Goals: eScholar myTrack presents a holistic view of an individual student's behavioral records. Incorporating data from PK-12, eScholar myTrack presents past interventions, results and recommended pathways based on the results of millions and within the parameters of policies.

“eScholar is a strategic partner in Cumberland County’s mission to improve teaching methods, the ability to qualify our results, and the education outcomes of our students.”

Benefits for Administrators, Counselors, Teachers, Students and Parents

Creating actionable information from data

eScholar myTrack efficiently personalizes education by providing a platform through which administrators, teachers, and support staff are presented with an individualized view of a student's goals and progress across their entire education lifecycle.

Empowering educators with relevant up-to-date data

Leveraging data and insights driven by the industry's most robust longitudinal data warehouse, eScholar myTrack monitors progress and enables the education team to support the student's overall success. Educators are provided with State Curriculum Standards, recommended pathways, as well as the ability to personalize the plan based on personal insight and interaction with the student.

Strengthen Communication

Built around the individual student, eScholar strengthens the communication and participation of the student's entire community of stakeholders, including parents. Participants are able to collaborate on goals and participate in the achievement of specific goals. Staff members can log all communication with parents and team members to support open communication.

Document Progress and Milestones

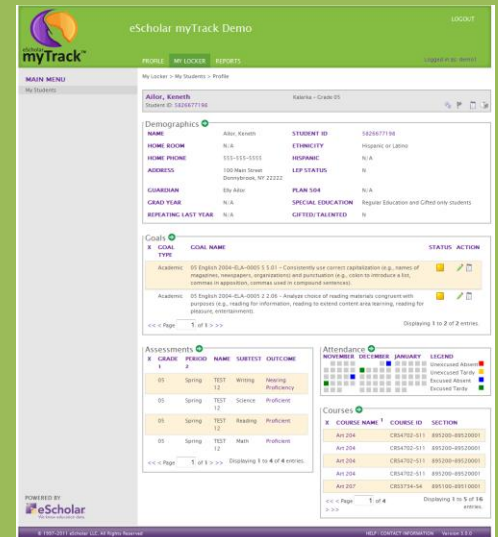

eScholar myTrack provides a central database of information over an entire education lifecycle. As progress is made and goals are obtained, eScholar myTrack captures and shares the success with the entire community. Staff members can document goal and student notes to help improve the goal process.

Quantify Best Practices

With every use, eScholar myTrack continues to strengthen its knowledge base for which to help administrators, teachers and students identify correct pathways based on the results of other student successes and progress. This is a critical element in providing quantifiable and data-based decisions that can be applied to each student.
