

Goals Matter!

5 Reasons to Set Personalized Goals for Your Students.

Goals Increase Motivation.

Studies have shown that giving specific goals to students is a better motivator than telling them to do their best.

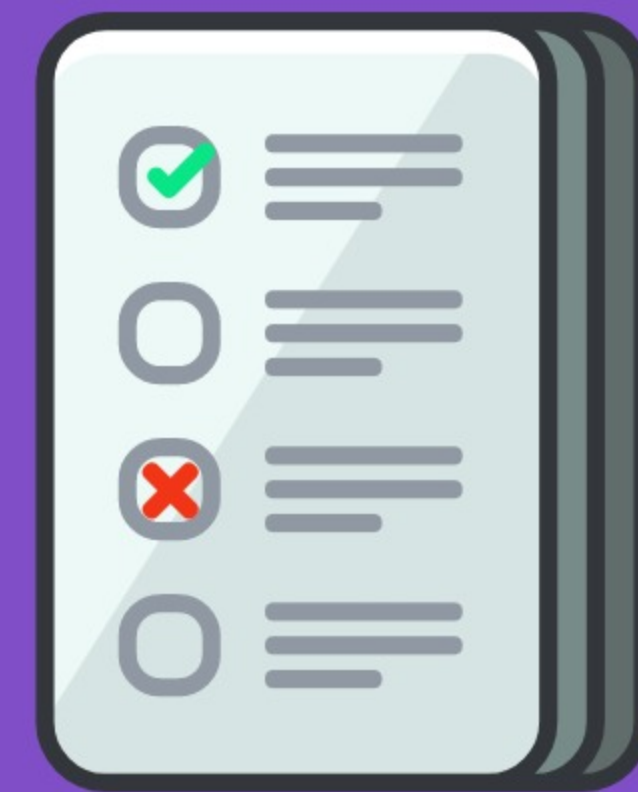

Goals Help Students Develop Persistence and Creativity.

Studies show that when students set goals, they also demonstrate greater persistence and creativity to achieve those goals.

Goals Increase Achievement.

In one study, students who completed their goal interventions showed a 30% improvement in academic performance.

Students with Clear Goals Are More Likely to Ask for Help.

When students have specific goals, they are more likely to ask for help and take concrete action to achieve their goals.

Students Who Achieve Their Goals Feel Joy and Pride.

Achieving goals makes students feel a sense of accomplishment and they feel empowered to achieve more.

eScholar: 20 Years of Empowering Leaders.